DELAYED REACTION THE AWAKENING

- The pass history of mankind, have placed on the shoulder of modern man, the reasonability to prevent the repeat action of our ancestors, either the action or the inaction of the pass, depending on which group you fall under, will determine how much work you will have to do.
- I will play devils advocate for the moment, and ask a number of questions, and the first question I will ask is this.
- Is it wise, or correct, to take revenge on the people, or groups of people who have wronged you, either by killing your brother, or your sister, or taking your father away from your mother, and not because they were bad people, but simply because, the people in charge could?

If the answer is no, then we have, as a people on planet EARTH, a lot of work to do, but if the answer is yes, then the next question must be, is there a time limit on a reaction, namely revenge?

Is Revenge justice, or payback?

I would say, as one of the injured party, that revenge, is both justice, and payback, but you should not take revenge for revenge sake, but to send a message to the aggressor, that his or her last action will not be tolerated.

And if he or she prissiest in this behavior, then the consequences could and will be dire, most people are like children, and like children, they will push you to see what they can get away with, so the early discipline, will prevent that child from ending up in prison later on in his or her life, and so it is, on a larger scale, when you are dealing with nations.

The only problem is, when you try to repay, a bad nation, for their pass misdeeds, the wrong party gets punished, because the government hides behind the general public, and claim that what it is doing, is on behalf of the public, but most of the time, the general public, only find out after the fact, and by then it is too late do anything.

Many things are done on behalf of the general public, and without asking the general public, if it should be done, and this is done, partly because the people in charge just don't think, that we are smart enough, to make the right decision, what nerve!

In my life time, I have seen some of the evil things done to my people, by the other race, who claims that the planet, belongs to them, I have also watched the live action on the television screen, and I must tell you, that it brought tears to my eyes, and for days after, I seems to have lost the will to live, and please do not misunderstand me, the world is a wonderful place, if only the demigods would leave well alone.

Those evil people should pay for what they did, it seems to me, that there is two sets of rules, if you have a dark skin, you may not take revenge, but on the other hand, if your skin is white, not only can you take revenge, but you are allowed to destroy the country, of the man or woman, who have done harm to any member of your tribe.

It is said, that one should live by example, well I would like to thank you for showing me the way to go, because you have shown me, that if you don't come down hard on the people who have done you harm, then they will get bold, and continue to do you harm, I am with you on that one.

STATUE OF LIMITATION

People talked about statue of limitation, in other words, they will say, it happened so long ago, so let it be, if I am not mistaken, there is no statue of limitation on murder, because if a murder was committed forty years ago, we would still punished the culprit, if we were to catch him or her.

A man or woman can be breathing, but not be alive, being alive, means that the person breathing, must be able to contribute to society in every sense of the word.

He or she cannot be a dead weight, some thing must be brought to the table, and therefore, if you were to kill the sprit of a people, it is the same as murder,

So every effort must be made, by the people who have brought this feeling of not been up to par, upon a group of people, to change that state of mind.

I have observed over the last twenty five years, the none repentance of the super powers, and to add insult to injury, they brag of how powerful they are, and how backward the rest of the world are, to my mind, if every one on this planet, take up the game of golf, this world would be a much better place, and I will tell you why.

To be a good golfer, one must follow the rules, which for the most part, is self policing, you must practice very hard, and learn the rules of the game, when you win a game, you take the credit, and likewise, when you loose, you also take the blame, because you are in control of your self, and what takes place on the golf course, is between you and the course, and the only thing, that your playing partner have on you, is if he or she, is having a good round, all you can do, is to draw on what you did on the driving range, and try very hard to reproduce it in the match, and if you loose, you loose, so try harder next time, or practice harder, one of the most important rules of the game of golf is, that you should be magnanimous in victory, and be humble in defeat, so if you live by these simple rules, even in your normal daily life, you will always have a golfing partner, because you will be nice to be around.

I will say again, do not brag when you win, and when you loose, stop your crying, because you get good days, and you get bad days, the bad days will make you a better golfer, and so it is with life, you learn from the dark days, this does not mean that dark days will not return, but it does mean, that from what you have learnt, with a little hard work, you will minimize the number of dark days, and if you can achieve that, then you would have made progress.

The same cannot be said for society as a whole, we let pride, and ego, and wanting to be number one, cloud our judgment, just for the sake of this little talk we are having right now, let us say, that you think that you are better than everyone else on the planet, and you see everyone like a bug, and let us say, that you were able to crush every bug on the planet, now I have good news, and I have bad news, because now you are on your own, and the whole planet belongs to you, I know that you would not be happy, because people like you needs an audience to feel good.

Every one can't be number one, take a simple thing like a cup, the cup have a top and a bottom, and every part of that cup is as important as the other, because without the bottom, the liquid would fall away, and the more you drink from that cup, the closer you are getting to the bottom of the cup, yet you will keep that cup until you need another drink, you see, every part of that cup, plays a part in making that cup the cup that it is, because without the bottom, it is just a tube, and that's all.

It is the same with people, each person have value, but if you are not smart enough to see the value, then look back on your self, and ask yourself, who are you important to, I do not see you the same way your mother does.

Now let us play a game, and take away that person that you think that you are so important to.

Now tell me if you should be killed, or put to sleep, but before you answer the question, remember, that the only person that you were important to, is no more, now you are as they say, a waist of space.

These are my words, and they may be of no importance to you right now, but if I had the power of life or death, you would pay more attention to my words, would you not?

that is why, some country can get away with what they do, because for fare of been killed, the people, or a smaller country, will do as they are told, but not because what they were ask to do is right, but the fare of been bombed, but would you not rather someone respect you, rather than fare you?

Nibble on that for a moment, and then tell me, if I have got it wrong.

I also think there should not be a time limit on a damaged pride, a man or woman with damage pride, is like a gun with a rusty barrel, the bullet leaving that gun, could end up any where but the place the gun was pointed, if it leave the barrel at all,

If you damage the sprit of any man or woman, you will leave that person in a semi depress mode, and this state of mind, does not help the human family, at this moment in time, there is a vast number of people walking around, very mad in deed, but not mad in a brain defect, but mad, because there is a feeling that some one have got away with something.

THINK! YOU WILL KNOW WHAT I AM TALKING ABOUT.

If a bank robber robs a bank, but did not kill any one, the general public admits that a robbery have taken place, but it is only money, and they would be able to live with that fact, but if the bank robber, kills some one in the process of the robbery, then every one, wants him or her to be caught, and why, because justice have to be seen to be served, and a sense of closer.

The school bully, will only stop bullying, when he gets his first beating, and the person who have done the beating, will be adopted by the bully,

In addition, the adoption, will not be out of love, but out of respect, and this leads me now to say, it does not matter, if you do not love me, all I ask, is that you respect me.

THE HUMAN SPIRIT IS LIKE A MERROR, YOU REDIATE WHO YOU ARE, AND YOU REFLECT WHAT YOU ARE.

As a man who belongs to a race of people, that is not respected, and never was, I can speak from first hand knowledge, we as a people, are looked down upon, not because we are not good workers, or lazy sportsmen and women, but because we allow others to kick, beat, hang, shoot, and drag us behind pickup trucks, and all we do as a people, is to go to church, sing and clap like trained seals, walk around with a few signs for a few days, and then it is all forgiven or forget about.

We must stop playing the doormat, because if we do not turn this around, then we have sentenced our people, to a life of being a moving target for all time to come.

When you visit the home of a friend, you try to follow the rules of the house, and if you becomes the new member of a golf club, you follow the rules of the club, or you will be thrown out on your you know what, and so it is with life, you must adopt or get run over, when you are in traffic, you must keep up with the flow of the traffic, or you will cause an accident, you have to look at the big picture.

The duty of every man, is to defend himself, if he think his life is in danger, and the person or persons who threatens your safety, must be made to understand, that whatever he does to you, will be returned ten fold, and unless this is made quit clear, a state of turmoil will always exist, when respect is present, the behavior of the person who shows respect, will be vastly different, from some one who does not have respect or knows what it means.

The rules of the game have been changed, due to resent event, namely September 11th.

I have paid attention, and the message that was sent to me after the trade center coming down was, if you see some one coming up the street, looking mean, and if he or she looks at you in a way that make you think they mean you harm, then you would be in your right to kill that person before they kill you.

You know that what I have just said is a load of bull, and I know it is a load of bull, but the people in charge, said no, that is the way to go, and that is why we are having a problem today.

Do you remember Mr. DAVID BIRD?

I am speaking of the man that was dragged behind a pickup truck, well if he were not brain washed, and believe everything that he reads, he would be alive today, because he were told that it is all over, and he can go about his daily life without looking over his shoulder, wrong.

The men that dragged MR DAVID BIRD behind a pickup truck did it because, they were told, that no one would give a dam, and after all, he is a black man.

I think that those men should be set free, now please don't loose it for what I have just said, because the government, and society is responsibly for how they think, because for hundreds of years, the government treated black people less than a dog, those feeling cannot be turned off so easily, now think about it, the man is not dead because he was a bad man, he is dead because he is a black man, the nation should pay for that, because the nation created that mind set, and I will tell you this, if black people does not becomes a reflector, the DAVID BIRD thing will happen again, because putting to death the three men that did the act, is not enough, all of society must see that happening to them, for something like that never to happen again.

If you were thinking of cutting one of my harms off, but in the back of your mind, you know that my brother, would remove one of your harms, I think I would keep my hand, don't you, hell yes I would, and you know why, because you think that your harm is more important than mine, that works for me.

You have herd the saying, I feel your pain, well hell, feel it, and then we will become brothers and sisters.

The man that was dragged behind a truck until he was dead came about because of slavery, now before you loose it, let me explain, if you are a fox in the U.K. you will get hunted and you are free game, that is just the way it is, now let us say, that in the next ten years, foxes took over the U.K. and now they make up the rules, and now the fox start to hunt the local people, there will be cries from all over the world, saying, this is a sad day, how could the fox do such a thing.

Selective memory, that is what I call it, they only remember what they want to remember, they totally forget when they use to hunt the fox, now back to BIRD again, he forgot, and he paid the price with his life, so don't you forget, I won't.

I would like to be respected, and I do every thing in my power to be respected, the way I drive my car, and the way I work, I say thank you and please, all the time, and I always think of others, but now I am having second thoughts, because some people take that as a sign of weakness, and if they sense a chink in your harmer, then they will attack you, now the problem is to find a balance.

A stain to the dignity of a race of people, have been committed, and this stain must be removed, if these people are to turn the page of progress, if on your way to the bar, you accidentally stepped on someone's feet, your first reaction would be to turn to the person, who you have just tripped over, and say, oh I am sorry, and regardless how painful, the other person will say, that is ok no problem, because your action after the accident was correct.

I am trying to lay out a moral map, which I feel is needed, if just to remind people of the correct direction, so everyone can stay on rout,

We have been around long enough, so following this direction should not be hard to do, you say that you are so smart, and everyone else is so stupid, well hell, show me.

In resent history, a number of event have change the way we think, and react to each other, and one of the resent events that spring to mind, was the halo cast in western Europe, but I will not say the name of the people who were involved, because you should have been paying attention, another sad event took place about one hundred and fifty years ago, and as a result of those two resent event, the world is in turmoil, no lesson was learnt from either of the two events, so I think and I know, that I have enough understanding of the aftereffect, to speak on the subject.

As a black man, I have every right in the world, to analyze the pass, I have learn from pass history, but I doubt very much, that others have.

I look at the way countries and nations, speak and think about others less fortunate than them self, and the arrogance, and religious way in which develop countries speak about the underdeveloped countries, make the lesser countries feel slighted,

And now they ore left with two choices, one is to strive to be as good as the develop country, and two to bring them down to their level, the latter is the easiest to achieve, because when you do not have the skills to move to the next level, then destruction is the only way to go.

It must also be said, that some group of people, love the way in which they live, but to an outsider, this way of life is dull and stagnant,

However, put yourself in the head of those people, and you will find that they have taken the easy way out.

I will break it down for you.

If a man builds a house, that house must be maintained, but if he lives in a shack, he can walk away from that shack at anytime,

It is the same as a man that likes to live in an apartment, if you speak to that man, and ask the question, why you live in an apartment.

He will say, man I do not want to pay all that high school and property taxes, and beside, all that dam repairs would kill me, so to hell with it, se what I mean!

Some people just cannot take the pressures of life, so they take the easy way out.

Responsibility, makes some people shine, and rise to the top, and they will use the fuel of responsibility to drive them self, but it will make some people jump from a high place,

We are not all made the same, and thank god for that fact, because then every one would be a Doctor or the head of some big corporation, and you know, there is only so much positions for C.E.O'S.

Now let us get back to why I started to write these thoughts down, I am disappointed with my people, for their lock of bulldogiasity, this is a word my grandfather liked to use, some people use the word drive, but I say guts and pride, anyway it all boils down to the same thing, and that is lock of action.

If you are not one of these people who like to start something, then if you are dragged into some thing, then I think you should be more than happy to finish it, because the lack of completion, is one of the reason, why we have so much turmoil in the world today.

If there is a beginning there must be an end.

You should always, readdress the package, and return it to the sender.

You have herd people say many times, so and so happened the other day, and before I could give this man a piece of my mind, he just up and drove away.

This has led some people to feel incomplete, and unfulfilled, and this state of an untidy finish, make for a lingering death.

Now I know, while reading this little mind bender, you are going to say, there he goes again, talking about death, o.k.

Let me clean this up if I can, the death I speak of, is not the one where they put you in a box and berry you, the death I speak of, is the one that make you an intellectual zombie.

This type of zombie, walk around not knowing the past, and don't think of the further, and have no idea, what his or her role is, in this society.

Each man or woman, have the right to do whatever it takes to live a good life, providing it does not infringe on another person's right to do the same.

Some people have this strange idea, that every one on the planet, was put here just to serve them, and a good indication of this, is to observe how some people set them self up, I would like to help you, to follow the pattern that is a dead giveaway.

I would like to paint you a picture, in such a way, that you will get the idea, long before I make the last brush stroke.

A man buys a piece of land, and builds a house for his family, then he buys a gun, and settles down, a short time after, another man buys the land next door, and build him self a house for his family, and he settles down also, now you will have to stay with me on this one, and pay attention, several years went by, and all is well for the sake of this painting, I will call the first man JOHN, and the second man BILL, now remember, JOHN was the first to build his house, and the only one with a gun, now ten years have gone by, and life for JOHN and is wife was good, BILL did not like to fish, so BILL decided to get him self a gun, and do some hunting, the day BILL returned home with the gun, he forgot to cover the gun, and JOHN saw through the window, when BILL was going through the back door with his new gun, JOHN turn to his wife and said, baby come and have a look at this, I will have to take that dam BILL out, JOHN'S wife ask him, why would you want to do that?

JOHN replied, the son of a #percentage^@ just got himself a gun!

JOHN'S wife said, but darling, you have had a gun now for ten years, and BILL have never said one word about it, JOHN replied to his wife, well you cannot trust these people, and I do not feel safe, leaving you home alone, and him next door with a #^@>< gun.

JOHN'S wife said, darling could you sit down for a moment, I would like to talk with you, JOHN said, you won't change my mind, he will have to go, PAT turn to her husband and said, I've been telling you for years, to stop ribbing those people, and I know what's bugging you, you think that BILL, have had enough of your B.S. and that is why he got him self a gun don't you?

The moral of this story is, JOHN is judging BILL by him self, and all the mess he have thrown at BILL over the years, he think have caught up with him, guilt you see, and all BILL wanted to do was a little hunting.

The JOHNS of the world, is the problem, and they think, that they and they alone have rights, and the rest can go to hell, and in their heads, they think the world belongs to them, and they let you stay, for the moment, five hundred JOHN, S with power make a nation, so look out for the JOHNS of this world, they want it all for themselves.

If you want to catch a thief, you must send a thief, who best to recognize a snake but a snake, because they do not have to see each other, to know there is a snake in the area.

Value and price tags, is some thing we use to quantify the worth of some thing, now the question is, what do we use, to quantify the value of a person, I have my own yardstick that I use, to measure value in people, and it is very simple.

A man or woman should walk in a way so others can get by.

When you are waiting at the train station, and sitting on a bench, if another passenger wants to sit on the same bench, your first reaction should be, to move up the bench, to make room for the other person to sit also,

if this is the only thing that you do on the plus side, do it well, smile while you are sliding up the bench, don't do it begrudgingly, because the tension will be felt by the other passenger, and you will add stress to his or her life, remember, whatever you do will come back to you ten fold, but it will not come back the next day, or the next week, but believe me, it will come back to you, so take out an insurance on you soul, do the right thing and be "nice"

I speak like this, because I am very sad, of the way the people on this small planet treat each other, I do not have the pulling power, to pull every one together, nor the contacts to get the leaders of the world to sit down with me, so I could get in their heads, so the only way for me is to write down what I think, and may be, some one may read my words, and it may or may not turn on a descent switch in the art of the people who can do something about it.

This planet belongs to everyone, to respectfully use it with gratitude, and the notion that you can take a big gun, and take it all for your self, is wrong and misguided, because there is always some one much bigger, and stronger than you, oh I know your reply will be, but I am young and strong, and I shoot straight, and I say now you do, but when age catch up with you, and your hands start to shake, and the legs are not so strong, that is the only time, love and respect will enter your mind, take it from me, start thinking about love and respect now.

I am from a small island in the west Indies, and my brain is wired negative ground, and most people in the west, is wired positive ground, I always thought, that red means danger, I have never seen a black fire, have you?

Think about that for a while, and then get back to me.
