

DESPITE THE OBVIOUS

Despite the obvious I can still here people say why can't they be like us, meaning why the people in the other part of the world, not try to adopt our ways, and do as we do.

I am laughing right now, and you will find out why later.

Let us look at this question in detail and see if the people who want the rest of the world to adopt our ways, have got their facts straight, or their head screwed on the right way, we are going to take and look at this question very easy and carefully, just to make sure we don't make any mistake.

You will have to stay with me and don't rush me, because we are going to work as a team, and let us see if both you and me, could work this thing out, I may mess up a little, but I must tell you now that it is not intentionally.

o.k.

So let us take a stab at it.

If ten people were standing in a room, and in the room there was a bucket of plums, seven people out of the ten like plums, and in the bucket there was only seven plums, that would mean, that there would be a plum for all those who like plums, but as luck would have it, depending on how you look at it, only seven people like plums, but the head of the group work very hard to convince the three people who did not like plums, to change their mind and try a plum.

If FRED as we will call him for now, were successful in convincing the three none believers, or the three people that did not like plums, to try a plum, that would now mean that three people would have to go without a plum, are you with me so far, o.k.

I will continue, now let us turn this around and replace the plums, and the amount of people, and in place of the plums, we substitute it for oil and food, then we change the numbers of people from ten to the population of the world or planet, from this small exercise you can clearly see that it would not be in the interests of the other seven people in the room, if the three none believers change their mind and turn to like plums.

Now we have a new situation, supply and demand, now you say so what, o.k.

I will tell you so what, if every one on the planet have the cash to purchase the oil and the food, you would think so what is the problem.

There is a twist to the story, every one have the cash but not all have the guns, only a handful of people have the guns.

Oho I see the light have been turned on and you now know where I am going with this, good, are you getting the picture now.

The people with the guns will not be satisfied with a fare share of the world resources, they would want and demand more than they are entitled to, now the you know what, starts to hit the fan, as they say.

The people without the guns would have to sell themselves in order to survive, and by so doing lose what dignity they had, a group of people would become sub servant, and a state of them and us would now exist.

Linked with this sub servant state, envy and jealousy, would replace the pride they once had.

Is this what we want when we say why the rest of the world don't adopt our way of life in every sense of the word.

I don't think so.

Some things are best left alone; let sleeping dogs lie, as they say.

When there is a sale at a major store, haven't you notice the crowd outside the store, and why do think that is.

It is because there is only so much items on sale, and if you want one of the item, you would have to get out of bed very early in deed, or take a gun with you, and take one of the items on sale by force from someone who were there before you, not fare you say, but life is not fare.

Come on take the ride, you thought that I was off my head, well we will see.

Survival of the strongest, and beside what are you going to do about it, do you have a gun and the will to use it. If not shut up and go with the flow, if you want to keep on living.

Now I will ask the question again, do you still want the rest of the world to copy our way of life, and want the same thing we do?

I sense a change in your attitude, was it something I said, or for the first time in your life you stopped, thought, then you say, well I'll be a sun of a gun.

What ever the reason you are making a move in the right direction, and that is a good thing, not for me you understand, but for the world, and since I live in the world I too will benefit from the change in you, thank you.

I will not go on anymore, because I am sure that you will carry the message on word, and who knows where it will end.

Isn't progress wonderful?

A vacation is a time to get away from the normal and do something new and different, to see new places and to visit a country you have never seen before, and to meet new people, with a different outlook, you also get a chance to observe different buildings and stiles, and the dress of the local people, with their different culture, which can be all inspiring, the chance to try and taste new magnificent dishes, and you hope that the thing that you find of value, does not hold the same importance to the local people, of the town or the city you are visiting.

Now if this is the hope of the average tourist, then why would you want the rest of the world to adopt the lifestyle of the U.S.A.?

Those trinkets that you find so wonderful, you would have to then go into your pocket and purchase a few to take back for friends and family, but I do not want to be the bearer of bad tidings, but those trinkets that you would like to purchase.

If you get your wish, then the locals would also find them interesting, and now the price have gone up, dam it, you say, but that is what you asked for.

No you say.

Well I say yes, that is exactly what you asked for, when you say, why can't they be like us, and now that they are, it seems as if you don't like it, well I say tough.

If you have forgotten what your values are, then I will remind you.

every one in the U.S.A would like to be number one, and wishes to earn a lot of cash, they also love to drive very large vehicles, and live in very large homes, you don't have to be a math teacher to be able to work this one out.

If the dream to get the rest of the world to follow our way of life was your hope, then my little brain tells me that if we get this global village that we ask for, and it come to pass, then this would create a problem, in that the price of goods would rise to level not before seen.

And if every country adopts our military stance, this world would be a very unsafe place in deed.

Now I would like for you the reader to use your imagination and think for a moment, and think of the amount of weapons in this country, now multiply this by the amount of country around the world, and you will get some idea of what this globe bal village would look like.

At the moment there is a country in the Middle East, that would dearly love to have nuclear weapons, and we in the west say, under no circumstances would we allow this to come about, but surely we want them to stand on there own two feet, and be in a position to defend themselves, don't we?

I only ask because I was told that every one should stand on their own two feet, and I would have thought that was a start.

Another thing came to mind while I was writing this little head twister, and it is this, for hundreds of years we in the west would laugh at CHINA, because everyone ride a bicycle and they all dress the same, we said to them, now come on, get with the program.

Reluctantly they did, and now look what you have done, now they are driving cars, they want to get rich, they are using cell phone, and laptop computers, I tell you this world is gone to the dogs, you know that I do not believe that, but I just thought you may find my thoughts interesting, that is all.

Anyway some times you should be careful of what you wish for, because you may just get it, then what, as I have said before, some things are best left alone.

The black people in the U.S.A at one time could not walk the street without been shot at are being laugh at, they could not talk back to a whit man, or he would be slapped to death, and the sad thing is this, no one gave a dam, and you know why, he is just a black man.

A black man could not drink from the same water fountain as a white man, and they got away with it because all black people would do, is to sing and go to church, they could not defend themselves, well I think that the world have learnt a lesson from those days, well I should say, some did, and some did not, but for the ones who remembered, they think about it every day, and deep down I think that some black people would like to exact revenge.

Now why are you looking at me like that, if the white man can take revenge for what was done to them, they why can't a black man do the same thing?

When you think of the answer, please call 1800 one mixed up brother.
