

DEFEND OR NOT
DON

Defend or not to defend, and who have the right to defend one self,
I will now ask the question,
Here goes,

Who on the planet have the right to defend one self, and what race must you be to be able to defend you country or your people, if anyone have the answer to this question I would love to get the answer.

The word defense is used very loosely these days,

And most of the time it is not meant for poor people, or people of color,

Now do not get all upset and all twisted with me for saying that, because you know that there is only some countries are allowed to have a good defense system,

It is well known that if you can defend your self then no one will mess with you,

NOW tell me why the major countries in the world think that they have the right to tell the under develop countries what to do, how to worship, and what type of government to have,

Every one knows, or should know that Progress is an on going thing, and some people progress at slower rate than others do,

It does not mean that they are less deserving of gods blessing,
Or if you prefer the creator's plans for man kind, it is not for you or I to say who should have what, and who should do what,
the notation that any man or woman take them self so seriously to think that he or she is so important, that others should follow your lead, is beyond arrogant,

Now I cannot find the adjective to use, but it will come to me before this is done,

A few things sprung to mind while I was writing these few words, and one of the words is nuclear weapons,

Now that we are on the subject of weapons, let us play around with this defense issue,

If the intention is to defend yourself and your people,

Then the size of the weapons should not come up at all,

Because the mare fact that you need defense in the first place,

Then humanity does not come in the equation at all, because if another country make an attempt to take you over, then it goes without saying, that you would hope that most or all the people in that country will say, or should say, over my dead body,

Let us for the moment say that the people, whoever they are

Did say that,
And the aggressor was not deterred by what was said,
Now to gain respect or to leave a mark so you and your people will be remembered for all time, you will say, or you should say, it is a good bet that we all are going to die, but the people who are coming to take this land, will not be able to use it for anything but a dump yard.
Because when we are done with it, it, the land that is, will not be good for nothing.

I remembered not so long ago, you could be sitting in traffic, and some low life would come up to your car and tell you to get out because he wants your car, now,

If you do not possess a gun, you will have no choice but to comply with the wishes of that mistake for a human,

You will then report this to the police and hope that they catch this fool before he or she mess your car up, or sells it to a chop shop.

Now the lesson learnt from this small demonstration is this, always be prepared to defend your self, no one, and I mean no one have more right than you do, he could be the head of the largest corporation in the world, all that says, is that he have more money than you do, and that is all, both you and he breath the same air, and the water that he drinks comes from the same well.

Now back to the question of defense and who should be in a position to defend one's home, family and or possessions,

I am no one special, but I will bet you all that I have and say this to you, we all do have that right as an individual, now that been said, multiply the you and I by one thousand to the twelve power,

That is a lot of people, now you are going to tell me that some handful of people, sitting some place discussing the plans that they have for the world, and without asking you or I,

They will draw up a plan, and if we do not fit into these great plans of there's then we die,

I say hell no,

If that is the way it is going to be, then we all die.

I am one of those people that sees every one as wonderful and good, but they may be lacking in experience, and some knowledge, but it is not a crime,

It is just a state one find one self in, to be pore is not a crime,
To be arrogant is a crime,
To be short is not a crime,
However, to be a bully that is a crime,
To think that you are better than every one else, it is not so much a crime, Let us just say that, the person in question is suffering from delusion of grandeur.
In addition, a good slap in the face could wake him or her up.
